employee - Jill Staveley

has seen it all from Radio On the Lawn to Geek Day, from Annual General Meetings to Bank Deposits, from Listener Complaints to Reconciling Music Logs, from building furniture to cleaning the bathroom, from Drone Day to Radio From the Stage, from Trout Rodeo to Fundraiser. It's an honour, a joy and a privilege to work within the Trent Radio community...to take risks, be challenged, feel heard and explore the power and potential of radio. Thank you for all of the gifts that this community brings. with love and radios, jill

Rob Hailman, Director of Operations

Rob Hailman once wandered into a programme proposal workshop with no idea what Trent Radio was about, and as they say, the rest is history. Today he is the Director of Operations. Outside of his work at Trent Radio, he produces weird radio shows and passes the remainder of his free time by making music or tinkering with electronics...or by tinkering with electronics to make music.

A year later, she was working as a student-staff at Trent Radio. Fast forward to today, school is over, life is bliss, and Mridul is a new addition to the Trent Radio core team. She is grateful to have the coolest job ever. Plus, she gets to make music in her free time.

ODE TO TRENT RADIO HOUSE

From the studios of Trent Radio House
Through a Tower up on a hill
The voices and sounds that resonate inside its walls
Are broadcast to minds all over at will
From would be lawyers' musings
To guitarists strumming aloud
From poets on a rant and children reading stories
They all want to share their ideas with the Peterborough crowd

CFFF FM is the speakers' corner
Of the modern day
Broadcasting at 92.7 with ideas overflowing
As each participant helps lead the way
It's not just a radio station though
It's a living, breathing thing
For it is from Trent Radio House that we all learned, as one,
To power up that microphone and sing siNG SING.

Memo No. _____

Had my first shift at Trent Radio today! Was a little nerve racking at first, i had a feeling we would go live and we did! Jill trained me while we were live! I got a new pair of headphones too, i can wear them for my sound art class with Martin. It was cool to meet everyone that has a radio show wednesday! Ill be listening to all the shows each week! Maybe me and Dana will have a radio show one day, we were brainstorming hypothetical name ideas the other day. It would be really cool to have a show. I think ill really like this job :) "Broadcasting through the facilites of Trent Radio, your listening to _____" what would the name be?

Memo No. _____ NOISEHOLE

Memo No. _____ JAM

Trent Radio Jam Session! It was so much fun & we made some really beautiful music! Ive never been to any kind of music jam before so this was really cool. Ive always been amazed at how people can make music up on the spot together I can see now how they just feel the music and join in. I got to use Mimis ukulele and harmonica. Ive never really used a harmonica before so it was a learning experience for sure. I didnt even know each hole had two notes LOL. I wanna get one of my own now. so many people came to the jam! Rob played the piano, Charlie played violin, Jill played guitar. Other instruments I thought were an electric drum board and a clarinet i think.

CUST3139H: Radio & Podcast Workshop

Each year the students of CUST3139H: Radio/Podcast Workshop take over Trent Radio House for their seminar times (Winter Term) for hands-on learning in the studios. All of their work is presented on-air, and they even pull off a live-to-air Radio Drama Project each year. It's always so much fun and such an excellent community to work and learn within.

Learning about radio BY making radio!
